We offer this additional information in an effort to provide you with a clear understanding of the nature of the job and its requirements. Please take the time to review this information prior to submitting an application.

NATURE OF WORK

The primary function of an Eligibility Worker involves determining the eligibility of applicants and recipients for public assistance programs. Typical duties include:

This often requires obtaining information in difficult and/or emotional situations on issues such as earnings and financial obligations and/or parental status and living arrangements and maintaining control of the interview if the client becomes hostile or angry over the interview questions.
- Learning numerous state and federal program regulations and specific county practices through intensive training prior to full case assignment and ongoing training thereafter. The work of an Eligibility Worker is highly regulation driven with ongoing reliance on regulations.
- Instructing clients in the completion of various forms and reviewing applications for completeness and consistency.
- Explaining program benefits, requirements and procedures, including eligibility factors, to public assistance clients.
- In some cases, visiting clients in their homes for the purpose of obtaining and verifying information.

- Advising clients of deadlines, timeframes, and necessary actions to be taken.
- Working with clients who often do not take the necessary actions within the required timeframe.
- Establishing and maintaining multiple case files through regular updating and review. Documenting all communications and contacts with clients.

- Preparing system generated documents necessary to initiate, continue, and/or modify public assistance.

- Computing and authorizing grant amounts based on financial and family status. Computing CalWORK's budgets, Medi-Cal budgets, General Assistance budgets, and Food Stamps in order to calculate grants.
- Reviewing and explaining to clients public assistance amounts and authorizing payment of monthly benefits.
- Providing information and making routine referrals to resources available through the County and within the community for clients desiring or needing services. In some cases, Eligibility Workers also refer clients to and communicate with Social Workers and other staff to coordinate family services. Note: An Eligibility Worker's responsibilities do not include social service casework. An Eligibility Worker is not responsible for working with clients to attempt to resolve their personal or social problems.
- Keeping up to date on changes in rules, laws, procedures, etc. that affect processing timelines.

Eligibility Workers are expected to handle a high volume of work which is deadline driven. Applicants must be able to prioritize, plan and project their work, but at the same time be flexible to changes at any moment, such as unscheduled visits from clients.

It is important to understand that the actions you take as an Eligibility Worker impact the lives of clients and their families.

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES

As an Eligibility Worker you may be required to take actions that conflict with your own values. An Eligibility Worker must be able to accept clients' differences and interact with them in a non-judgmental manner.
